GHHS!!!!

Join the conversation and share the challenges and joys of practicing medicine with other GHHS members from all over the world. We, at GHHS have created a Social Media forum to uplift and support medical students, residents, and practicing physicians alike.

The ultimate goal is to create a community of support and inspiration. We encourage all members to post any topics of interest or engage others in conversation. These posts can range from educational articles, quotes that motivate you or even what exercise routine relaxes you. All we ask is that each member follows our group rules.

Forum Guidelines

1. No HIPPA violations
2. No advertisements
3. No hate speech
4. No politics
